Allies Drive East of Piave Berlin Sends Another Note to Washington

WITH MORE THAN 20,000 PRISONERS ALLIES IN THE ITALIAN THEATRE CONTINUE HURLING AUSTRIANS BACK

Refighting Enemy Forces Leave Guns and Wagons Behind Them; Victorious Advance of Entente Troops Increasing Hourly in Importance

Italian Headquarters on the Piave, Oct. 29.—Via London, Oct. 30.—(Associated Press)—More than 20,000 prisoners have been captured since the attack by the Allied forces began.

Italian Headquarters on the Piave, Oct. 30.—(Associated Press)—The Austro-Hungarian forces are retiring in the region east of Conegliano. They are leaving behind them scattered along the roads toward Vittorio, seven miles north of Conegliano and Sacile, farther to the west, many big guns and munition wagons.

Italian Headquarters on the Piave, Oct. 30.—(Associated Press)—Elements of the American Expeditionary Force in Italy, which have been in reserve, are now in readiness to take part in the fighting east of the Piave. The Americans probably will be brigaded with Italian units.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The results of the victorious advance against the Austrians on the Italian front hourly increase in importance, says an official dispatch to the Italian Embassy to-day from Rome. More than a hundred villages and towns have been taken.

The battle line is pressing closely upon the heels of the enemy, the message states, having reached the River Livorno, where the Austrians attempted to stand to save their threatened principal lines of retreat. The Austrian army corps on the left wing has retired in disorder, leaving behind war material and several hundred guns. The Sixth Austrian Army Corps is said to be in a very critical position, engaged in heavy defensive fighting in the hills between Val Dobbiandene and the Soligo River.

A Great Change.
London, Oct. 30.—One year ago the Italian armies were streaming westward from the Isonzo with a great military disaster imminent. To-day the Italians, with British and French divisions fighting with them, and with an American contingent about to enter the battle, are pouring through what appears to be a breach in the line.

DEBENEY'S MEN GAIN MORE GROUND IN MOVE TO TAKE IMPORTANT TOWN OF GUISE

Paris, Oct. 30.—General Debeney's First Army has gained new successes in the encircling of Guise, according to a statement from the War Office here this afternoon. North of Guise they have taken the Beaufort Farm, north of the Oise. Along the Peron River south of Guise French forces have progressed east of Monceau-le-Neuf and captured prisoners.

The statement reads:
"North of Guise we have advanced on the north bank of the Oise and captured the Beaufort Farm, west of Les Quilless-St. Germain. On the right of the Peron we have made a new advance east of Monceau-le-Neuf, taking prisoners."
"In Lorraine German troops made two raids without result."
Report From Haig.
London, Oct. 30.—On the British front in France and Belgium, Field-Marshal Haig reported to-day, there has been no activity except patrol encounters, in which British troops advanced and captured a few prisoners. The statement reads:
"Apart from patrol encounters in which we made progress and secured a few prisoners, there is nothing to report."

Turning Line.
London, Oct. 30.—West of the Argonne Forest French forces yesterday began an attack which seems to promise the turning of the Aisne line, which is the main obstacle to the French advance immediately west of the Argonne in the region of Yverdon. The new attack was over the front from Quentin-le-Petit to Herpy, north of the Aisne, and the progress made in the first hours of the onslaught indicated that important results were within reach.

BERLIN WOULD HAVE WILSON BELIEVE ALL CHANGED IN GERMANY

Washington, Oct. 30.—Another note from the German Government reached Washington to-day. It supplements the last brief communication, saying armistice terms were awaited, by reciting in detail Governmental changes which have taken place in Germany as evidence that the Kaiser has been deprived of all power of making war and negotiating peace.

This time the Germans do not address President Wilson personally, but send the information for the American Government, apparently recognizing that the stage of personal appeals passed with the transmission of their armistice and peace plea to the Allied Governments.

It reiterates that the actual power and responsibility of the German Government have been transferred to the Reichstag and describes the progress of the necessary constitutional changes. The note probably will be forwarded immediately to Paris, where the Supreme War Council of the Allies already is reported to have formulated terms upon which the Allies might permit a cessation of hostilities.

Reply to Vienna.
As word of the new German move came it was learned that President Wilson was working to-day on a reply to the last note from Vienna in which the Austrian Government accepted all principles and conditions of the President and asked for armistice and peace proposals.

The reply, which probably will be made public before night, is expected to inform the authorities at Vienna that on the basis of acceptance of all conditions, including actual independence and not mere autonomy for subject nationalities, their request has been referred to the Governments with which the United States is associated. The armistice programme said to have been prepared by the Supreme War Council of the Allies had not been reported on early to-day by the American representatives. The Government, however, is known to favor terms equally as drastic as those described in press dispatches as agreed upon at Versailles.

VIENNA NEGOTIATING WITH CZECHO-SLOVAK GOVERNMENT AT PARIS

Basel, Oct. 30.—Count Andrássy, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, has entered into negotiations with members of the Czecho-Slovak Government in Paris, according to the Hungarian newspaper Nepszlo.

Turkey Is Reported Willing Allied Fleet Enter Dardanelles
Amsterdam, Oct. 30.—According to a Constantinople dispatch, reports are current that the Turkish Government, under the peace negotiations, has invited the Allied fleet to enter the Dardanelles. Troops are not to be landed, it is said, with the exception of a small detachment to supervise the demobilization of the Ottoman army.

The city of Halifax reports total subscriptions for the first day of $374,750.

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—A special cable from Sydney, N.S.W., to The Vancouver World, says that the Melbourne City Council has adopted a resolution insisting that Germany indemnify Australia for the losses sustained by the war, the sum of £400,000,000 being suggested.

NAVAL PATROL STEAMER GALIANO BELIEVED TO HAVE FOUNDERED OFF QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS

FORMER TIMES CITY EDITOR KILLED AT FRONT; LIEUT. INGLIS

LIEUTENANT INGLIS KILLED IN ACTION

Notable Career of Former City Editor of The Times Ends on Battlefield

Lieut. (Acting-Captain) Thomas B. Inglis, who left the City Editor's desk of this journal to step into the service of his country more than two years ago, has made the supreme sacrifice, the announcement of his death in action appearing in this day's list of Canadian casualties.

In the late fall of 1915 the late Lieutenant took a military course in the businessmen's class, and obtained a lieutenant's certificate. In May of 1916 he was gazetted with a commission in the 11th Battalion Canadian Mounted Rifles. In the following month he crossed the Atlantic with his unit, and on the 22nd of June he was absorbed for the purpose of supplying reinforcements drafts to France. Lieut. Inglis became detached for further duties in England until he himself crossed the channel to the battlefield early in 1917.

"Holds Full of Water. Send Help!" Faint S. O. S. Picked Up at Early Hour To-day From Government Vessel Crossing Queen Charlotte Sound; Many Victorians Aboard

"Holds full of water. Send help!" was the faint wireless message picked up about 3 o'clock this morning from the Canadian naval patrol steamer Galiano.

Although the worst is feared, in view of the fact that no further message has been picked up in answer to the calls flashed through space since the first notification was received from the apparently foundering steamer, it is considered possible by the naval authorities that the steamer's wireless aerials may have carried away during the heavy gale blowing off Triangle Island during the night.

Furthermore it is realized that the emergency dynamo may have been put out of commission by the heavy seas which, according to the first message sent out, must have flooded the ship as she was battling against the storm.

The Galiano left Triangle Island about 9 o'clock last night for Keda Bay, and it is feared that disaster overtook the vessel somewhere off Cape St. James, the rocky point at the southern end of the Queen Charlotte Islands. Rescue vessels have been rushed to the scene and are now patrolling the Sound off Cape St. James in an effort to locate the vessel or some trace of her.

The steamer Gray, Capt. Billington, and all the steam whalers of the Consolidated Whaling Company's fleet, have responded to urgent wireless calls and are scouring the Queen Charlotte Sound in the hope of finding the Galiano disabled or ashore. When the steamer Gray got the call she was at Rose Harbor, and left immediately for the reported location. Cape St. James is about twenty miles distant from Rose Harbor. The steamers Alameda and Humboldt are also reported to be in that vicinity and are lending aid. The tug Commodore has also been sent from Thurston Harbor.

Weather reports indicate that a heavy southerly gale was raging off the northern end of Vancouver Island during the night. There has been no response from the Galiano since the initial message was sent out to the effect that the holds were flooded. The S. O. S. message was so faint that it was concluded that the engines were out of commission.

In view of the absence of any definite information the only theory that can be advanced is that the little patrol steamer was disabled by the heavy seas, thrown broadside on to the wind and deluged by heavy seas.

The Galiano is a vessel of but 393 tons gross and was built at Dublin by the Dublin Shipbuilding Company in 1913 to the order of the Dominion Government. The dimensions of the vessel are: Length, 162.3 feet; beam, 27.1 feet; and depth, 12.1 feet.

The steamer Malaspina, also operating as a patrol steamer with base at Esquimalt, is a sister vessel, and was built at the same time.

Both vessels were designed for the Canadian Fisheries patrol service and for several years were utilized in that service on this coast.

After the war broke out they were converted for use as naval patrol ships, and have been used chiefly as examination vessels outside Esquimalt harbor. More recently the Galiano, and also the Malaspina, was put under the White Ensign, coming directly under the control of the Canadian Department of Naval Service.

The majority of her officers are residents of Victoria. Capt. (Lieut.) R. M. Pope, R. N. R., her commander, resides at 745 Newport Avenue, Oak Bay. He has been in command of the ship ever since she came out from the United Kingdom six years ago. Earlier in his career he served in the Canadian light-house service, and was mate on the steamer Quadra for years.

VICTORIA, ON SECOND DAY, BUYS BONDS TWICE AS FAST AS LAST YEAR

In the second day's drive in the Victory Loan campaign Victoria invested $302,850, according to figures issued at headquarters at noon to-day. This brings the total so far procured in Victoria, exclusive of the city's investment, and that of the Provincial Government, up to $473,000. With the $350,000 advanced by the city the total is now nearly at the million mark.

The financial results of the second day of the campaign, and the corresponding results last year, are as follows:—

1918—Tuesday		1917—Tuesday
Banks	$ 61,250	Banks	$107,350
Canvassers	$241,600	Canvassers	$ 46,500
Total	$302,850	Total	153,850

In other words, in the two days of the drive this year, more than twice as much was invested as last year. But one up-island return has come in so far, Duncan, it being announced, having taken up to last night $38,050.

A Good Start.
Victoria has started on her campaign this year in a much more rapid style than she commenced her drive last fall. On the first day this year more than twice as much was taken in as last year, though this year's quota is two-thirds greater. On the first day last year something over $97,150 was invested, and on Monday, though the official returns only indicated an investment of $171,000, with the amounts taken at the "drop-out" the total was easily up to the $200,000 mark.

On the first Wednesday of the drive last year the investment for the day grew, but it dropped somewhat on Thursday, the investments running about the $180,000 mark. On Friday, however, the total for the day sprang up to over $350,000, and with over $20,000 taken on Saturday, the total for the week was $1,154,770, or over a third of the city's quota. By Monday of the second week the city had got about half way in its race for victory, and by Wednesday the two million mark had almost been reached. By Friday the total was well over two million dollars, though the daily investments had fallen slightly.

FRENCH DROVE AHEAD IN THE CHAMPAGNE

Attack Yesterday West of Chateau-Porcien Carried Out Successfully.

Paris, Oct. 30.—The following official report was issued here last night: "Between the Oise and the Serre Rivers there have been spirited artillery actions, notably in the region of Crecy-sur-Serre. "To the west of Chateau-Porcien the indefatigable troops of the Fifth Army undertook to-day a new advance on a front of twelve kilometres between St. Quentin-le-Petit and Herpy. The battle is being fought with magnificent spirit on our side and great stubbornness on the part of the enemy, who has orders to halt us at any price. "On our left, in spite of an abundance of machine guns, who tried to check our advance, we succeeded in passing beyond St. Quentin-le-Petit and carried our line to the neighborhood of Hill 127. West of Banogne we also made progress. "In the centre our troops have repulsed the enemy beyond the road of Recouvance-St. Ferveux over a width of three kilometres. "To the right we have conquered Hill 116 and advanced more to the east. Prisoners to the number of 850 have actually been counted. "Aviation, Oct. 28: Our reconnoitring machines have pressed very far into the enemy zone and brought back hundreds of photographs, many of them being taken between thirty and fifty kilometres from the front. Nine enemy planes were downed or fell out of control. A captive balloon was set on fire. "During the night our bombing squadron dropped sixteen tons of projectiles on large railway stations and important points of concentration, particularly on the railway stations of Hirson, Verins, St. Gobert, Mont Cornet, Marie and Audun-le-Romain, on the aviation grounds of Mars-la-Tour and on large depots at Provins. Numerous fires were started by our projectiles, namely, at Provins, Hirson and Marie."

Will Not Defend Ghent. With the British Armies in France and Belgium, Oct. 29.—Via London, Oct. 30.—This was the day on which German troops were to be withdrawn from the Lys to Ghent, according to statements of prisoners. These prisoners said Ghent would not be defended for more than three or four hours, after which a further withdrawal would be made to the line of Dendre river and Antwerp.

Northwest of Verdun. With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 30.—Via London, Oct. 30.—The American troops improved their positions in the region of Alencorville and east of the Meuse to-day. The artillery was active on both sides. The Germans using heavy guns from various parts of the front shelling Verdun, which now is almost a daily occurrence. Around Waville the Americans started a local counter-attack, but were repulsed.

Fires burned most of the day in the neighborhood of Dun, Amfreville and Damloup, which are believed to have been caused by American bombs or shells. There are no indications that the Germans are withdrawing.

Big Guns. American big guns cracked down on the main line of the railroad in the region of Conflans to-day, and also shelled a large enemy troop concentration in the neighborhood of Marghennes. The Conflans line is important because it extends from Germany's principal communicating line to Metz. The firing in the direction of Conflans continued intermittently throughout the day.

At intervals also big guns inside the American lines shelled the territory around Spincourt and Dommary-Bancourt, both important railroad junctions.

Report From Pershing. Washington, Oct. 30.—Heavy artillery and machine gun fire north of Verdun and the bringing down of eighteen enemy aeroplanes, with failure of five American machines to return, as told in Associated Press dispatches last night, were reported by General Pershing in a communique of yesterday, received to-day by the War Department.

Wilsonstad Becomes Capital of Slovakia. Czecho-Slovaks Choose City of Pressburg and Change Its Name. Paris, Oct. 30.—The Czecho-Slovak Council of State has decided to make Pressburg the capital of Slovakia, according to newspapers here.

Pressburg is on the north bank of the Danube, thirty miles south-east of Vienna. It is beautifully situated near the western extremity of the Carpathians and is one of the finest cities in Hungary. Hungarian kings were crowned at the cathedral of St. Martin at Pressburg for centuries. The population of the city in 1900 was 61,000. It was announced recently that the Czecho-Slovak Council had changed the name of Pressburg to Wilsonstad in honor of President Wilson.

Roumanians Aid. Washington, Oct. 30.—A brigade of Roumanian infantry has been organized in Siberia to fight with the Entente troops, according to a cablegram received here by President E. G. Masaryk, president of the Czecho-Slovak National Council. The unit is composed of Roumanians of Austria-Hungary who were taken prisoner by the Russians in the early days of the war and sent to Siberia as prisoners. Roumanians of Austria-Hungary also are fighting under the allied command in France and Italy.

King George Field-Marshal of Japan. London, Oct. 30.—The presentation to King George of the sword and badge of a Field-Marshal of the Japanese Army by Prince Yochito, on behalf of the Emperor of Japan, took place at Buckingham Palace yesterday. In acknowledgment of the honor, King George paid high tribute to the Japanese forces on land and sea.

Most of the London papers take occasion, in connection with this ceremony to comment on the great service rendered by Japan to the Entente Powers.

AUSTRIAN AEROPLANE FAILED IN ATTEMPT

Did Not Pass Through Italian Balloon but Both Fell Burning

Italian Headquarters on the Piave. Oct. 29, via London, Oct. 30.—(Associated Press.)—During the crossing of the Piave by Italian and British troops an Austrian battleplane attacked an Italian observation balloon and attempted to pass through it. The attempt failed and the enemy aeroplane became entangled in the ropes of the balloon. Both the balloon and the aeroplane were set on fire and the burning mass dropped to the ground in the region of Montello. Neither the pilot of the aeroplane nor the observers in the balloon was hurt.

British Report. London, Oct. 30.—The following official report on the operations of the British forces on the Italian front was issued here last night: "The advance of our Tenth Army continues according to plan. The enemy resistance appears to be weakening considerably. Early this morning the enemy was holding the line on the River Monticchio with a number of machine guns. Northeast of Vassole we made prisoners of several hundred of the enemy. The Porto Buffole aerodrome is reported to be in flames."

British troops raided enemy trenches opposite Asiago, but found them unoccupied.

Austrian Statement. Vienna, Oct. 29, via London, Oct. 30.—In the Alano basin, on the eastern end of the Italian mountain front, Austrian detachments were forced to retire Monday, but elsewhere between the Brenta and the Piave the fighting activity was not intense according to a statement last night from the Austrian general headquarters, the text of which follows: "For the defenders of Monte Asolone and Monte Pertica yesterday passed without large infantry engagements. In the region of Monte Spioncova our troops repulsed the enemy."

In the Alano basin our detachments were pressed back, but other enemy attacks against our positions in this region broke down with heavy losses."

U. S. STRIKES STRIDE IN AEROPLANE PRODUCTION. Washington, Oct. 30.—Production of American aircraft now has reached a stage where it is being limited practically only by facilities for transporting the aeroplanes to France. The production of Liberty motors during October reached a stage of 1,000 a week, a goal which had not been hoped for at least until December 9.

The latest official compilations show that since June 1 approximately 2,500 fighting aeroplanes of all descriptions have been shipped to the American forces in France. (When it is realized that none of the belligerents at any one time since the beginning of the war has had more than 1,500 aeroplanes actually in service, the significance of an American production of 2,500 planes in five months becomes apparent.)

FINANCIAL PANIC GROWS IN GERMANY

Reichsbank Has Issued 2,000,000,000 Marks in Bank Notes in Four Weeks

Zurich, Oct. 30.—The German Reichsbank has issued bank notes to the amount of 2,000,000,000 marks during the past four weeks, according to The Neueste Nachrichten, of Munich. The newspaper says that this was caused by the hoarding of bank notes by the people and points out that if the Germans do not give up their present "craze" a financial catastrophe is inevitable.

From Rhineland. London, Oct. 30.—Civilian departures from the lower Rhineland and part of Westphalia, which were begun on a small scale when the first Allied bombs hit Cologne, have developed into a panic flight, according to The Hague correspondent of The Daily Mail. All the banks are being stormed by depositors, who are withdrawing their savings in German bank notes.

Not only are some of the banks at their wits' end for legal currency to pay out deposits, but in places, especially Cologne and Dusseldorf, all except local and therefore valueless, currency, has disappeared as if by magic.

Everybody who can possibly afford it, is trying to make his or her way eastwards. Scores of houses stand empty.

Even in Berlin financial panic has seized the people, and the ordinary paper currency of the Empire has vanished. The municipality has been compelled to issue emergency currency to the value of about 50,000,000 marks, valid until February 1 next within the confines of Greater Berlin. Traders may refuse to accept this currency, or at least decline to change the notes except when compelled to take them in payment for goods already delivered.

ACTING-CAPTAIN INGLIS.

The death in action of Acting-Captain T. B. Inglis will be deplored by a wide circle of friends in this city, but by none more deeply than by the employees of The Times of whose editorial staff he was for four years a highly-esteemed member. Coming to this paper in 1912 as a reporter, his ability, industry and high principles early won recognition and within a comparatively short time gained him promotion to the City Editor's desk. Endowed with a fine intellectual equipment trained in a famous English college in which he won a scholarship, an attractive personality and a very amiable disposition, he seemed destined for a successful career in any line of activity to which he might set himself. He was a graceful, versatile writer and had a keen sense of news values, a combination which, with his marked energy and sound judgment, made him a most valued member of the staff. His relations with his colleagues always were of the most cordial nature, for association with him begat instant confidence and friendship. Two years ago he left for overseas with a local unit and saw service at Lens, Passchendaele and in much of the heavy fighting which has characterized the British operations since August 8. He was gassed once and in the great Canadian victory at the Queant switch received a shrapnel wound in the knee, returning to duty about three weeks ago. To him the well-known expression "a soldier and a gentleman" could be applied in its truest and fullest sense. The Times records the report of his death with the keenest sorrow and expresses its heartfelt sympathy with his wife and little son now in England.

AT VERSAILLES.

Historic Versailles, fourteen miles from Paris, has been the scene of many momentous gatherings during the last four years. The headquarters of the War Council of the Allies, it is there that their policies have been determined, their multifarious activities co-ordinated and their decisions made. There Foch was appointed to the supreme command of all the military forces opposed to Germany from the North Sea to Macedonia, undoubtedly the most important of the many decisions which had come from there up to that time.

During the last few days a conference transcending in importance any that has preceded it in its relation to the future of civilization has been in progress at Versailles. The political and military representatives of all the Allies, whether parties to the Treaty of London of 1914 or not, have been conferring on the terms of the armistice and peace to be imposed upon Germany. The two phases are being determined together so that the acceptance of the one must involve the acceptance of the other. This is to say, if Germany should submit to armistice conditions which would prevent her re-opening hostilities, it would be a guarantee of her compliance with the terms of peace agreed upon by the Allies, for she could not, in fact, do anything else. There would be no opportunity for negotiation or argument or controversy as to the "practical details" around a conference table and no opportunity of sowing seeds of dissension among the Allies. Hence, it is necessary for the Allies to have their principles of peace decided upon by the time their military chieftains fix the conditions of an armistice.

Foch and his aides, of course, will determine the terms of an armistice, and we may be sure, it will not take them much time to do so. Conditions which would make it impossible for Germany to renew hostilities, as President Wilson emphasized in his note to Berlin, must be very drastic. They probably would include the occupation of important strategic areas of German territory, such as Essen, Cologne, Metz, Wilhelmshaven and the Kiel Canal, and, at least, the disarming of the German navy. This, of course, would mean the surrender of the German armed forces, just as Bismarck demanded the surrender of the French army when France sought an armistice after Sedan. The easiest part of the programme of discussion at the present momentous conference at Versailles undoubtedly is the determination of the terms of an armistice.

Peace terms, however, must require more consideration. For instance, reparation by Germany falls under different heads according to the nature of the injuries she has inflicted upon the various countries she tried to destroy. The activities of her submarine fleet were directed chiefly against Britain's shipping and these cannot be overlooked any more than the outrages of the German army in France and Belgium. We assume that there will be no disagreement as to the necessity of insisting upon the elimination of the Hohenzollerns and the military masters of Germany and the punishment of the authors of the war and the perpetrators of the devilish crimes which fill the German record, before Germany can obtain peace. Indeed, the complete democratization of Germany, to our mind, is the most vital issue of the whole situation. It will not do merely to remove the rattlesnake's fangs; the rattlesnake must be destroyed, for the reptile, as is well known, grows new fangs.

The conference, however, is likely to determine only the minimum terms of peace, leaving the final conditions to be decided at the actual peace conference. They and the terms of the armistice decided upon will confront Germany with the alternative of throwing up her hands or continuing the war, to the certain destruction of her armed forces, and continuing it probably alone, for Turkey is virtually out of the struggle and Austria-Hungary appears to be on the verge of collapse.

The conference at Versailles marks a reversal of history which will not be lost upon the "monarchical despots and military masters" of Germany. Versailles was the birth-place of the present German Empire. There, in the great palace of the Bourbons, William the First, king of Prussia, was proclaimed German Emperor on the initiative of the king of Bavaria, concurred in by the sovereigns of the other German states. This was ten days before the capitulation of Paris, the people of which had been reduced to starvation. It was there, also, that Bismarck, the instigator of the war and the pan-German imperialistic movement, decided upon the harsh terms to be imposed upon France. Now, in the same stately, historic pile, the Allies, their statesmen presumably under the presidency of Clemenceau, and their military leaders presided over by Foch, are fixing the terms of an armistice and probably of a peace which must involve the collapse and disintegration of the ambitious structure founded at Versailles on Prussian militarism forty-seven years ago.

AFTER-WAR IMMIGRATION.

The Montreal Journal of Commerce, edited by the Hon. W. S. Fielding, doubts that there will be a large immigration to Canada for a considerable time after the war. "It is probable," he says, "that after the war the work of reconstruction in the devastated regions will offer such abundance of remunerative employment as will make the people content to stay in Europe for a period. And where, from any cause, there is a disposition to emigrate, it will find itself confronted with laws designed to check the movement. Even in Great Britain, from which country we would naturally desire to draw our immigrants, there will be a strong desire on the part of the British Government to make conditions attractive enough at home to induce the people to remain. It is unlikely, therefore, that in the period immediately following the war there will be found the stream of immigrants that has been hoped for. In later years, if all goes well in Canada, we may hope that the abundance of good land in the Dominion will draw immigrants of the most desirable class. But for that happy condition we may be obliged to wait a few years."

Undoubtedly, the Governments of the various European countries will try to keep their people at home as long as they can, for any large emigration would interfere with the work of reconstruction. But the people themselves will have something to say on the subject and their desire to try their fortunes in the New World may be hard to restrain. In any case, eventually there will be a big flood of immigrants to Canada and it will be the duty of the authorities to see that they are the best kind to build up a prosperous, united Dominion.

The Italian front is actually the right wing of the western battle-line and, like all the other sectors, is subject to the supreme direction of Marshal Foch. It was the reverse of our ally on the Isonzo which made the Governments of the Allied powers first appreciate the urgency of unity of command and, it will be remembered, Foch went to Italy to assist the Italian commanders in reorganizing on the Piave and in the Trentino, with reinforcements of British and French troops. It was then that Mr. Lloyd George determined to force his plan for the consolidation of all the Allied armies between the North Sea and the Adriatic, which was adopted after our own reverses last spring.

Canada will have a representative at the peace conference, whenever one takes place. Whoever he may be, he should be charged by the Canadian people to insist that autocracy in Germany must go before there can be any peace. That is the whole issue in this war and it must be settled now. Otherwise, this conflict will have to be fought again twenty years hence. The complete democratization of Germany is the only guarantee of the destruction of Prussian militarism, without which the race of armaments will be resumed, the world will remain a barracks and the cause of democracy sent back a century. It is not for this that millions of brave men have died.

D'ARTAGNAN IS NOT DEAD.

(Collins' Weekly.)
One of the soldiers' letters that we've seen comes from a soldier of the sea. Here's a paragraph:
Believe me, dear, the French think there is nobody like a marine. All the French officers salute a marine, from a private up. All they look for is the marine insignia, and up goes their hand in their old salute. From here to the front the marine brings from the Frenchman's lips the cry of "Vive l'Armee!"
D'Artagnan is not dead though he doesn't speak perfect French any more. Apparently he served a while on our Mexican border, and now he's joined the U. S. marines!

STATES BIG LABOR UNIONS PATRIOTIC

But Carvell Believes I. W. W. and Socialistic Propaganda, Going on in Canada

St. John, N.B., Oct. 30.—Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works, while here yesterday, was asked regarding the labor situation in Western Canada. He stated that unfortunately a very unsettled condition seemed to prevail in certain sections of the labor unions, not only in Western Canada, but in a lesser degree in certain portions of Eastern Canada as well. He was very emphatic in his belief that I. W. W. and Socialistic propaganda of considerable importance was being carried on all over Canada, and particularly in the West, and unfortunately many of the labor leaders, in his opinion, were very much influenced by these seditious doctrines.

He was very particular, however, to emphasize the fact that the big labor unions, such as the railway conductors, engineers, trainmen, telegraphers and others, are generally known as the "big six" and many others of the recognized trades unions were not in any way affected by it. In fact, he thought that the part played by the big labor unions in Canada during this war had been of such a high, patriotic character that it was an absolute justification of their existence and an evidence that properly conducted labor unions could exert a wonderful influence for good in any country.

Threat of Strike.

Mr. Carvell was very sorry to read in the papers that a strike was threatened in Sydney because of the dismissal of some employees of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, but wished it distinctly understood that if any such strike should take place the Government would not hesitate to act with the firmness necessary to meet the situation. In other words, the Government laid down the principle that every man has a right to have his grievances investigated, but no man has a right to cease work in any essential industry during the continuance of the war, as every man physically fit should either work or fight.

To reach her objective the city will have to raise over $250,000 a day for each working day of the drive. This mark was not reached during the first day, but it was easily passed yesterday. From now it is expected that the city will swell the victory stream to the requisite amount each day. If as pointed out, however, that the investment during the first few days will probably be the largest of the campaign, as they represent the contribution of the business district. The canvassers are now preparing to run against more formidable obstacles as the time proceeds.

Results of Canvass.

The banks this year are not doing the rushing bond business that kept them busy last year, largely because the Canadian people now understand, to a greater degree, the details of the loan. No longer are canvassers regarded with distrust, and besides the "dugout" is taking in enormous sums every hour.

The results of the canvass, of course, are in proportion to the relative wealth of that part of the city covered by the bond salesmen. J. C. Wilson, who, with his team, covered the district around Upper Yates Street, gathered in 20,000 fighting dollars on the first day of the drive, and added another 12,000 yesterday. On the waterfront, the squad commanded by R. H. Shanks secured up to last night 22,000 financial soldiers. The district bounded by Yates and Bay Streets, exclusive of Chinatown, yielded, during the first day of the drive, $10,000, under the leadership of W. Murphy.

Addresses to Workers.

A number of bonds were sold yesterday at the Lemon-Gonzalez mill, following addresses delivered by R. W. Perry and Cpl. Miller. The Cameron Lumber Company has decided to suspend operations before the regular closing time on a day selected, so that the workers may hear Victory Loan addresses without having to stay after quitting time. To-morrow a picked team of canvassers will speak to the employees of the Yarrow's, Ltd. plant, Esquimalt.

Sir Thomas White's Message.

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—In connection with the Victory Loan campaign, the Minister of Finance to-day said that he desired especially to emphasize the fact that the Victory Loan will be required to the fullest extent even if peace should come within a few weeks or months, as the nations will be on a war basis for a long time, and it will take Canada year or more to demobilize. He also stated that it could not be too clearly understood that the market for Canadian agricultural and manufactured products would continue to depend upon the establishment of Imperial credits.

It is imperatively necessary in the national interests, he added, "that the objective of $500,000,000 should be reached."

BIG FIRE DAMAGE.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 30.—An estimated damage of $4,055,344 was done to farms in St. Louis County by the recent disastrous forest fires, according to an announcement made by St. Louis County appraisers who completed a survey of the burned area. Duluth's loss was estimated at $2,000,000.

LORD BEAVERBROOK SUFFERS OPERATION

Hoped For Success Not Achieved and His Condition Causes Anxiety

London, Oct. 30.—Baron Beaverbrook, whose resignation as head of the Propaganda Department of the British Government was announced yesterday, has undergone an operation. The result is said to be unsatisfactory and his friends are much concerned over his condition.

In his letter of resignation sent to the Prime Minister under date of October 21, Lord Beaverbrook said:

"For the last four weeks I have been suffering severely from enlarged glands in the neck and have been unable to go to the Ministry. I am faced with the prospect of an immediate operation and Mr. Trotter and Mr. Bagge both advise me that it will be necessary for me to relinquish the time being all public work. I feel that it would not be fair to His Majesty's Government for me to continue in office and therefore must ask you to accept my resignation."

"I have spent my strength in the organization of the Ministry and it is with deep regret that I find myself unable to continue my work. When I accepted office I was a firm believer in the merits of your administration and in its ability to win the war. The course of events has justified this judgment, and I am confident that you will carry the nation to a triumphant conclusion of the great struggle in which we are engaged."

"I trust you will accept for yourself and convey to my colleagues in the Government my sincere regret in leaving them."

ANOTHER NOTE TO ALLIES FROM VIENNA

Austria Asks Lansing to Intervene With Wilson for Armistice

Vienna, Oct. 29.—Via London, Oct. 30.—The Austro-Hungarian Government, through its new Foreign Minister, Count Andrássy, has sent a note to Secretary of State Lansing requesting the Secretary's intervention with President Wilson for an immediate armistice on all fronts and for the commencement of peace negotiations. The note says:

"Immediately after having taken direction of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and after the dispatch of the official answer to your note of October 18, 1918, by which you were able to see that we accept all the points and principles laid down by President Wilson in his various declarations and are in complete accord with the efforts of President Wilson to prevent future wars and to create a League of Nations, we have taken preparatory measures in order that Austrians and Hungarians may be able, according to their own desire and without being in any way hindered, to make a decision as to their future organization and to rule it."

"Since the accession to power of Emperor-King Charles, his immovable purpose has been to bring an end to the war. More than ever this is the desire of the sovereign, of all the Austro-Hungarian peoples who acknowledge that their future destiny can only be accomplished in a pacific world, by being freed from all disturbances, privations and sorrows of war."

"This is why I address you directly, Mr. Secretary of State, praying that you will have the goodness to intervene with the President of the United States, in order that in the interest of humanity and in the interest of all those who live in Austria-Hungary, an immediate armistice may be concluded on all fronts, and for an overture that immediate negotiations for peace may follow."

Sent to Allies.
Vienna, Oct. 29.—Via London, Oct. 30.—The Austro-Hungarian Government has communicated its latest note to the French, British, Japanese and Italian Governments, begging the approval and support of these nations.

A Vienna Statement.
Basel, Oct. 29.—Via London, Oct. 30.—A semi-official note issued at Vienna to-day (Tuesday) on Austria's earlier reply to President Wilson says:

"Austria was obliged to conform to the methods of President Wilson, who had successfully replied to three members of the Triple Alliance, and act apart from her allies. The Monarchy, which has formally adopted President Wilson's line of action, shares his opinion, as was shown by the Emperor's manifesto to the people, which in proclaiming the federalization of the

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, October 30, 1892.

The big iron collier San Mateo is in Esquimalt with her whole forward part a wreck, the result of a terrific explosion aboard, which occurred at 10 o'clock last night while the vessel lay in Semiahmoo harbor fogbound. The explosion was most likely caused by the lighting of coal gas or damp by a lantern, but it is barely possible that it was a dynamite bomb placed in the hold. Three men were slightly injured by the explosion. The escape of the crew is a miracle.

The dust had its own to-day. A high wind rose toward noon and blew the dust in every direction. No sprinkler was seen.

Two bluejackets were said to have been stopped by footpads last night.

"However, the complete reorganization of Austria can only be carried out after an armistice. If Austria-Hungary has declared herself ready to enter into negotiations for an armistice and for peace without awaiting the result of negotiations with other states, that does not necessarily signify an offer of separate peace. It means that she is ready to act separately in the interests of the re-establishment of peace."

Meuse Sector.

London, Oct. 30.—Bitter fighting has been going on in the Meuse sector during the past day or two. East of the Meuse American forces moved ahead one more and wrested important positions from the Germans. West of the Meuse the Germans have been heavily bombarding the American lines and back areas with gas and high explosive shells. American long-range artillery has been pounding the German supply lines at Conflans.

Valenciennois Region.

London, Oct. 30.—In the neighborhood of Valenciennes the British are making no striking gains for the moment at least. No significant progress has been made there during the past day or two. North of Valenciennes the French, British and Belgians have improved their lines but do not appear to have succeeded in breaking through the German defensive lines defending Ghent.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Tooth Brush

Copyright, 1914, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate,
(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Are you in a hurry this morning, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzzy, the muskrat body house-keeper, as the bunny rabbit gentleman started out from his hollow stump bungalow one day.

"Not specially," he answered. "May I have the pleasure of doing something for you?"

"Please bring me a new toothbrush, if you please," said Miss Fussy Wuzzy. "My old one is worn out, and one may keep one's teeth clean if one wants to be well and strong."

"You are right," said Uncle Wiggily. "And that reminds me that I need a new toothbrush for myself. I'll get us both one while I'm at it."

Away he hopped over the fields and through the woods, his tall pink nose glistening in the sun, and his twinkling hat—Oh, hold on, if you please. Something is wrong, I'm afraid. Yes, it was his nose that twinkled, not his hat.

Anyhow, Uncle Wiggily soon came to the twenty-five and six cent store, and going in, he bought two toothbrushes, one each for himself and Nurse Jane. And, as he was once more on his way through the woods, wondering if he would have an adventure, Uncle Wiggily, all of a sudden, heard a voice calling:

"Sammie! Did you clean your teeth?"

"Oh, no, mother! I forgot it!" was the answer.

"Then please come right back and do it!"

"Oh, no, mother! I don't want to!" answered Sammie Little-tail, the rabbit boy. "I want to go off and have fun with Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dogs. Anyhow, I can't find my toothbrush. It's been lost for the last two days!"

"Oh, Sammie Little-tail! Haven't you cleaned your teeth for two days?" cried his rabbit mother. "Oh, what a shame! First you know you'll have toothache, and then you can't gnaw any more bark lollipops off the trees!"

But Sammie was so eager to go play that he didn't stop to come back and clean his teeth.

"I don't know what I'll do with him," said his mother, as Uncle Wiggily came hopping past. "Sammie is so careless about his toothbrush!"

"It is too bad," spoke the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I have just bought some new toothbrushes for Nurse Jane and myself. I'll show them to Sammie and talk to him a little and see what will make him remember."

"I wish you would," said Mrs. Little-tail.

tail: "I'm sure I hope something will teach him to be careful of his teeth. And when we rabbits lose our teeth we can't eat any more."

"Very true," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll speak to Sammie."

So he hopped on after the rabbit boy, and pretty soon he found him playing a game of hide the bone with Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow. "Hide the Bone" is a very funny game, indeed.

Uncle Wiggily was watching the bunny boy and the puppies play it when, all of a sudden, out of the woods jumped a great big bad old Pipsawah. Now a Pipsawah is a very unpleasant animal, indeed, and as soon as this one jumped out from behind a bush he cried:

"Ah, ha! I am in luck to-day! I'll bite a fine lot of chop-suey off the ears of these two rabbits—little and big—and off the puppydogs. Oh, what luck!"

"Are you going to bite me?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I am," answered the Pipsawah.

"And me?" asked Sammie.

"Correct," answered the Pipsawah.

"And us?" asked Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow.

"Right again," snickered the Pipsawah.

Uncle Wiggily's pink nose twinkled so hard that he didn't know what to do, and before he knew he put his paw in his pocket and pulled out the two new toothbrushes. And then a funny thing happened. No sooner had the Pipsawah seen the toothbrushes than he cried:

"Oh, dear! Oh, woe is me! You must be a dentist! Oh, I can't bear to have my teeth cleaned! Oh, I'll be good! I won't hurt any of you, if only you don't tickle my teeth with the brushes!"

And away he ran, not hurting any one, and Uncle Wiggily was very glad he had bought the toothbrushes, though, of course, he never intended them for the Pipsawah.

And Sammie, the rabbit, suddenly said:

"Wait a little, Jackie and Peetie. I'll be back in a minute."

"Where are you going," asked the puppy dogs.

"Home to clean my teeth," answered Sammie. And when he came back with them shining bright, we went on playing. So this teaches us that no one should ever be a Pipsawah. And if the broom stick doesn't take the fireless cooker out to a moving picture show and freeze it fast to the gas stove, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the falling leaves.

Mrs. Herbert Drummond, Regent of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E. Vancouver, has issued an appeal to all Vancouver members of the order to assist the health authorities by wearing masks during the epidemic.

Mrs. Cornelia T. Hatcher, president of the Alaska Women's Temperance Union, who is well-known in Victoria, has returned to her home at Seattle after spending the summer at Anchorage.

The many Victoria friends of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart G. Campbell will be very sorry to hear of the death of their eldest son, Sydney, who succumbed to pneumonia in Vancouver yesterday morning, at the age of seven years. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell resided in this city prior to their removal to the mainland two years ago.

Lieut. Cecil de Trafford, Royal West Surrey Regiment, has returned to Victoria to make his home, having received his discharge from the Imperial army after considerable service in France. Lieut. de Trafford was married in England last year to Miss Mont Major, of West Ealing, and his bride has accompanied him home. For the present they are staying at 151 Government Street.

Recent callers at the office of the Agent-General in London include: Major J. S. Hoddling, of Duncan; Lieut. C. A. Fernie, of Vancouver; T. J. Lendrum, of Alingworth; C. W. San Francisco is making the influenza epidemic furnish the only amusement available in the city which was once the gayest on the Pacific Coast. With everything closed, even some of the largest cafes, San Francisco is finding its diversion in the invention of new modes of wearing gauze masks. Colors have found favor and the crowds on the street look like a masquerade ball in their facial covering. Elaborate designs have been evolved, and the several thicknesses of the mask of three weeks of masking, and it is not uncommon to see insects of fine wire netting over nose and mouth to aid ventilation. Women have evaded the mask horror by swathing their faces in several thicknesses of chiffon veiling, and with chiffon almost impossible to obtain, all colors are now making their way onto the street, adding to the strangeness of the population's appearance.

GOOD WORK BY WOMEN OF MARITIME PROVINCE

Headway Made by Women's Institutes in New Brunswick; Woman Supervisor

In view of the increased interest which is being taken throughout this province in the work of the Women's Institutes, the following brief resume of the annual conference of the institutes of New Brunswick will bear reading.

Rapid Growth.
New Brunswick has a woman supervisor of Women's Institutes, Miss Mabel McCain, and under her able supervision the number of institutes has increased rapidly, fifteen new branches having been organized within the past year, while the work shown an encouraging growth, the membership in the province being nearly 3,000.

During the year short courses of instruction in domestic arts and sciences were held at Woodstock, Fredericton, Sussex, St. John and Chatham, with an attendance of 1,824 women.

To help in food conservation bulletins had been prepared for institute members on the use of substitutes for wheat, milk and meat. The report included, also, mention of a movement in the west to make a national organization of the Women's Institutes of the various provinces and similar institutions.

Home and School.
In an address by Dr. W. S. Carter, Superintendent of Education for New Brunswick, the relation of the home and school was dealt with; also the loss to the teaching profession caused

NO INCREASE IN INFLUENZA CASES

Fifty-Three New Patients Reported Up to Noon
To-day

Fifty-three new cases of Spanish influenza were reported to Dr. A. G. Price, Medical Health Officer, up to noon today. The total for yesterday was 116, but despite this total for one day Dr. Price does not feel that it indicates that a fresh impetus has been given to the epidemic.

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can save about $2, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar, syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made, and save easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

bers no report will be turned in until the entire household has been laid up, and this results in batches of reports coming in at intervals, which swell the total for that particular day.

There is a noticeable dropping off in the military cases, and a reduction of about fifty per cent. is reported during the past week.

To the National Motor Company falls the honor of being the first concern in which 75 per cent of the employees have invested in the Victory Loan, and it will receive its honor emblem without delay. AUCTION SOUVENIRS AT VICTORY BOND DUGOUT SATURDAY

Total To-day Was Taken to $375,000, and Still Increasing

EXPECTED SHELL EVERY MINUTE, SAYS VISITOR

From $230,000 dollars up to one o'clock yesterday, the returned soldiers at their Dugout on Fort Street and Government Street swelled their Victory Bond total to $375,000 by one o'clock to-day, and the veterans were just snatching a few minutes respite while the crowd was attracted by the Human Fly, except that one bond for $10,000 was sold while the intrepid climber was getting to the top of the building. His Honor, Lieutenant-governor Sir F. Bannerman, R. P. Butchart, Director of the Imperial Munitions Board, Col. the Hon. E. G. Prior and Lieutenant Col. Angus are among the visitors who have helped the soldiers build up their total. Sergeant Faulkner enrolled the members of the staff of Angus Campbell Company in the list of those who are helping financially in the big drive, and Corporal Miller gave a talk to the employees of the Drysdale Company, telling of trench experiences, and the messages the boys sent back from the firing line. The management offered to finance any of their employees in the purchase of bonds, and a number of them have since visited the dugout and put their signature in the proper place. A little girl of seven years, Frances Beatrice Wilkinson, with the other members of her family bought bonds this afternoon, and the little girl informed Sergeant Faulkner, that "daddy is a returned soldier too."

Auction Sale Saturday

A valuable souvenir is to be auctioned Saturday night at the Dugout at eight o'clock. The sword was picked up on the battlefields of the Somme by Sergeant King and is believed to have belonged to an officer who was killed in action. The sergeant has received many tempting offers from souvenir hunters anxious to get possession of the trophy, but after refusing them all has offered to part with it to help the Victory Bond drive. Private Rowlands, one of the crippled men, working at the Dugout will act as auctioneer. "I haven't an auctioneer's license, but as there is no money being paid for the souvenir I guess it will be all right," he says. The souvenir hunters will have to bid in Victory Bonds, and the bidder promising to buy the largest number of bonds will be given the sword. The soldiers are asking for other souvenirs from veterans, or anyone who has some that they are willing to part with, in such a cause that will be auctioned in the same manner.

Denomination, C. of E.

One of the veteran bond sellers said some bonds to a soldier this morning who had evidently repaid innumerable times during his army career to the queen "what religious denomination." "What denomination?" the salesman asked him, referring to the bonds. "Church of England" was the prompt reply. Donald Purvis, who yesterday sold the bond-selling veteran that the $50 bond he was buying was with his own money he had saved to help beat the Germans," gave them the information that he was not about fifteen years of age as reported, but was only eleven years old.

Beribboned Guide.

"The way you tell about it made me expect a shell to come over every minute," said one lady visitor to Corp. McKenzie, a first contingent returned man with a long strip of ribbons across his chest, who is acting as guide. The lady, by the way, has a soldier son in the trenches. "Is this what Frank has to put up with?" Another lady visitor asked, and the Corporal who does not mind matters told her probably not. "With the fighting that is going on at the present time it is extremely doubtful if the men are getting quarters as good as these. With the big advance now on it is more than likely that Sir Arthur Currie is directing the operations of the Canadians from quarters just on a par with these. The men often get quarters like this; but there are times when they wish they could get them as good."

The Corporal in addition to the blue shoulder straps wears the Ashanti Star, which we wore as one of the composite battalions forming the pick of the British army for the West African fighting. The King and Queen's South African ribbons, a medal for the Zulu uprising following the Boer war, and two wounds stripes for the injuries he received during three years' service in France. As a guide, it would have been hard to find a more worthy soldier. Pointing to a machine gun, the workings of which he explains, he points out that roughly about four $50 bonds ought to buy one and he says these guns fire 150 rounds a minute, and it only needs four men in the section. It is as useful as a battalion of men against the Germans and just think of the Canadian boys it saves."

"Well, if that is so, I have bought two of them," commented another lady visitor.

The Sniper is Tame.
"Get the right side of the sandbags," he is telling the crowd for the "Come out of No Man's Land or you are liable to get sniped," but once he has his audience following him around the tunnel he informs them that the sniper is a tame one, and the only things he ever hits is pocketbooks. "You never need a surgical dressing where he hits you," he informs his audience.

Pack Up Your Troubles.

A number of new records have been loaned for the trench gramophone lent by Kent's Edison Company so that Private Rowlands has a bigger selection this morning but it was "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," he was playing again when a Times representative visited the front line. The soldiers wish to extend thanks to the Hainbury Farm who have not only purchased a liberal amount of Victory Bonds but are sending hot coffee and other refreshments to the dugout, "although," Sgt. King remarks, "it is not very realistic for a Tommy to get hot drinks brought over in a silver coffee pot, and on a taste-fully arranged tray in the front line."

CONDEMNED BUILDINGS

Twenty-Three Ordered Removed, and Eleven Repaired; Dangerous Excavation.

The City Council concluded its session yesterday afternoon with respect to action in connection with condemned buildings. In the case of twenty-three buildings the owners were given sixty days in which to remove the structures, otherwise the city will have them destroyed.

Eleven owners were given sixty days in which to make repairs to the satisfaction of the Building Inspector, and if this is not done the places will be torn down.

Eleven cases were withdrawn owing to the fact that in the interim the owners have made satisfactory repairs to their buildings. Since the condemnation proceedings began, owners of fifteen buildings had the objectionable structures razed.

There was a good deal of discussion over three buildings owned by L. G. Quagliotti, who was represented by F. C. Elliott. The Council reserved its decision in regard to the buildings.

The excavation of the First Baptist Church property at the corner of Flagg Street and Vancouver Street, which in the spring breeds frogs and in the winter is a flooded pitfall for children and unsuspecting folks, has been acted upon at last. The Council deciding to order the owners to fill in the excavation up to the level of the drain pipe and the city will clean out the drains. This will serve to keep the excavation dry at all seasons. If the owners do not carry out these instructions by November 15, the city will do so and charge it up to the owners.

VOTERS' LIST WILL BE CLOSED TO-MORROW

Two Thousand Household-ers Still Show Apathy Respecting Enrolling

There are still at least two thousand householders in the city of Victoria who have failed so far to call at the City Hall for the purpose of having their names entered on the Municipal Voters' List in order that they may vote at the next civic election to be held in January. This is according to an estimate made by City Hall officials this morning.

So far there have been some five hundred registrants from among the ranks of the householders, a noticeable increase being reported during the past two days. Fifty-two applicants called at the City Assessor's office after 5 o'clock last night, and had their names put on the list. Up to 10.30 this morning ten applicants made their appearance and the indications are that there will be a big rush to-day and to-morrow.

The City Assessor's office will be open again to-night between 7 and 9 for the accommodation of those who cannot find time to call during the day, but this will be the last opportunity for registering at night as the lists will be closed at 5 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Householders who have paid the two dollars road tax are entitled to take part in the election of a mayor and aldermen, and all license holders in the city are entitled to the same privilege. Printed forms are already prepared and all the voter is required to do is to sign his name and give his address in order to get on the list.

TWO MORE DISTRICTS

Sandon and Golden Fall in; Serious Situation at Nanaimo

Sandon and Golden districts have made application to the Government this morning for the formal Order-in-Council proclaiming the Spanish Influenza Regulations in force. With the addition of the two above-mentioned there are now forty-seven municipalities and districts officially closed on account of the epidemic.

Telegraphic advices from Cleo-ose reaching Dr. Young, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, this morning indicate that conditions there have considerably improved during the week-end. There are now no cases among the white employees of the Loomis Packing Company, the malady confining itself to Chinese and Indians, with much more favorable conditions than a week ago.

Reports from Nanaimo are by no means so satisfactory and Dr. Young fears that the epidemic in the whole of the city is rapidly taking a virulent form of pneumonia, already accounting for an alarming number of deaths.

From a wire from Rosland this morning it is learned that no less than five cases have been officially recorded to date. The malady is confined to the town, however, and every effort is being made to prevent the spread to the mining localities adjacent.

MEN FROM VICTORIA ON THE ROLL OF HONOR

Infantry Men, Cavalry and Cyclists in Recent Casualty Lists

One of the men who left Victoria and after proceeding overseas took part in the big drive as a cavalryman appears in the casualty lists—Pte. Frank R. Gowdy, Pte. Gowdy, it is presumed is one of the men, who according to the men recently returned from the firing line, are being selected for service in the cavalry which is at present taking a big part in the present fighting. He left Victoria in the recent drafts and appears among the wounded. He was living in California at the time war broke out and came from San Diego, where his mother resides, to enlist in the Canadian army.

Railroad Man's Son.

News has just reached here that Pte. William Earl Duperow, previously listed as wounded, died of wounds on October 8. Pte. Duperow was attached to the 5th Canadian Siege Battery, British Expeditionary Force, and is the son of W. E. Duperow, General Passenger Agent, Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Pte. Duperow attended school here. Before going overseas with an artillery draft in 1916, Pte. Duperow was attached to Headquarters Staff, in Winnipeg, for about a year and a half. James Gray, of South Gabriola, received word yesterday that his son, Pte. R. G. Gray, was wounded on September 26. Pte. Gray left Victoria with the 85th, who has been in France since 1916.

Men of the 103rd Battalion.

Private P. B. Snape, who left Victoria in July, 1916, is reported to be seriously ill as the result of wounds received in action, after a lengthy period of service in the trenches. Private Snape, who was drafted to the 2nd C. M. R.'s in December, 1916, saw his first big action at Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917, and has taken part in the heavy fighting since that time. He held many friends in his platoon in C company of the 103rd Battalion, in which he held the rank of Lance-Corporal, who would be glad to hear more reassuring news. Private Snape came from Sooke to Victoria to enlist with the Timber Wolves. His wife at present resides at Sooke.

Acting-Sergeant Hugh Reardon, who also left Victoria with the 103rd Battalion, has been killed in action while fighting with the 2nd C. M. R.'s, according to information which has been sent to Mrs. Reardon, Sussex, N. B. Sergeant Reardon was one of the men who enlisted with the 103rd Battalion a short time before the unit moved overseas. He held a non-commissioned officer's rank which he gave up to proceed to the firing line, but his coolness under fire and general abilities marked him for promotion to the rank of Acting-Sergeant which he held at the time of his death.

While serving in the Cyclist Corps, Private Frank C. Jones, son of F. Jones, Dallas Road, has been gassed, but no particulars are to hand as to the duties he was undertaking at the time.

Private Sydney P. Hill, son of Henry Fridmore Hill of James Island has died from wounds received in action.

After a short period in training in England he proceeded to the trenches with a reinforcement to the 29th Battalion and was serving with that battalion at the time he received the wounds which have since proved fatal.

More 2nd Depot Soldiers.

The greater number of casualties reported are again among men of the 2nd Depot Battalion, including several men who came from the United States to enlist in Victoria. Private Godfrey H. Beavin and Private Fred Barrett, both of whom are reported killed in action, left with the drafts from the Willows since the formation of the 2nd Depot and the relatives of both men reside in England. Private Guy A. Taylor, who left with the same battalion has been killed in action, according to information received by his father at Ladner. Another of the 2nd Depot Battalion men to make the supreme sacrifice is Private John Grimm, whose father, G. W. Grimm, Sharnburg, Ia., has been notified that his son was killed taking his part in the big advance.

Private George Dean has died of wounds received in the firing line. He came from Westchester, Washington, to enlist with the Canadian Forces and leaves a wife residing in the United States city.

LIEUTENANT INGLIS

KILLED IN ACTION

At Lens and Passchendaele.

He saw a great deal of the mighty struggles in which the Canadian Corps distinguished itself at Lens and at Passchendaele, while in December of last year he received his first setback in the shape of a dose of Hun gas. Despite a number of very close shaves, flying shrapnel grazing the knee on one occasion and close proximity to an exploding shell on another, Lieut. Inglis came through this year's fighting with a slight wound received during the victorious progress of the Canadian when Poch smashed the Drocourt-Queant switch three months ago.

Little daunted, however, by his close call and the fortunate circumstance of a slight wound, he quickly returned to duty with his battalion. To-day's distressing intelligence marks the passing of a fine soldier, a brilliant newspaperman, and one of the most admirable and popular of the many members of the craft who have given their lives in the service of the Empire. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and a small son, who are now in England. His only relative in British Columbia is an aunt, Miss Inglis, resident in Vancouver.

Exceedingly Popular.

To all those who knew Lieut. Inglis the news of his death in battle will be learned with the keenest regret. During his residence in this city he was exceedingly popular, not alone with those through whom, by daily association in a professional way, he was perhaps best known, but in a wide circle of friendship and acquaintance where his genial disposition and engaging personality won for him genuine regard.

Bearing always the characteristics of a true Britisher, his wide outlook on life in general endowed him with a fund of information that made acquaintance with him a delight. His death at the age of twenty-nine ends a career of much promise and denies to the newspaper profession one of its members who could have attained to any position within its gift.

Traveller and Linguist.

Lieut. Inglis was born in Stockton-on-Tees, England, and when in his teens his capacity for understanding demonstrated itself in the winning of a scholarship at Middlesbrough, where he was educated, which secured for him entrance to the London University. Here studies commenced in his home town were variously added to, and since his honor entitled him to a limited amount of travel abroad, young Inglis was quick to seize the benefits to be derived in the hard school of experience.

Possessing a receptive mind and a keenness to learn, he made an extended tour of France, Italy, Switzerland and parts of the Netherlands. In each of the countries visited he absorbed the native spirit and delved deep into historical associations. His travelling scholarship and his linguistic attainments gave to the young traveller a broad outlook and stood him in excellent stead in the profession of his choice.

Before coming to British Columbia he was for some time engaged in the teaching profession in England.

A Good Writer.

As a writer he possessed a most facile pen, instinctively understanding the correct point of view in the multiplicity of subject with which the modern newspaperman has to deal. Clarity of expression and directness in reference characterized his work, while his ability at the City Desk of The Times and as an editorial writer won for him the admiration of the staff and the commendation of his employers. His straightforwardness of dealing, his unflinching courtesy in the office and out-of-it were of a quality that insured at all times the smoothest co-operation with the staff under his immediate control. And although war's demands have taken many of his former associates, the profession in Victoria and Vancouver will feel his loss none the less keenly.

The Sixth Member.

The late Lieut. Inglis came to Victoria and joined the staff of The Times in March, 1912, as a reporter and in February, 1915, he was promoted to the City Desk, the position occupied by him until May of 1916 when he relinquished the pen and took up the sword in the cause of universal liberty. He is the sixth member of The Times editorial staff to give his life for his country since hostilities commenced. Former members, whose names already appear on the honor roll, are: Lieut. Frank Dunn, Flight-Commander Joe Gorman, Captain W. Garland Foster, Lieut. Frank Coffee and Sgt. Silvert.

THAT HOLIDAY TRAIN.

I joined the queue at five a. m.
At six we started moving;
Twixt seven and eight the crowd was great.
By nine it was improving.
At ten I faced the pay-box girl—
(She seemed to think it funny)
My blood ran cold, as in a whirl
I found I'd brought no money.
The moment was a tragic one—I couldn't see the joke.
Just then my loud alarm-clock rang—next minute I awoke!

ATHLETIC UNION NOT

DEAD NOR SLEEPING

"More Power to Their Elbow," Says an "Old Sport" in Letter

The much-debated question of professionals and amateurs in sports in Victoria continues to be a controversial subject among the fans of the different branches of sport, and in a letter to the sporting editor this morning there comes a boost for the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union and its efforts they are making to keep sport going under war-time conditions. The letter is as follows:

Dear Sir:—Referring to the letter of Mr. Wm. H. Davies in this evening's Times, it seems to me that Billy has entirely "lost his rag" and is now blindly hitting at the B. C. A. A. U. in an endeavor to unsettle the local officials, who are trying to the best of their ability to keep amateur sport pure and unadulterated.

If my memory serves me right, the article referred to in Mr. Davies' letter was to the effect that the B. C. A. A. U. would permit amateurs and professionals to mix in rugby games, provided the promoters first obtained their sanction, and who would in cases of this kind appoint someone to take charge of the gate receipts.

Surely this is not retarding sport, and the fact that the B. C. A. A. U. is ready to have an official in attendance at every game staged for the sake of sport and incidentally to augment the funds of the Red Cross goes to show that the B. C. A. A. U. is neither dead nor sleeping. More power to their elbow is the wish of

AN OLD SPORT.

P. S.—The fact that Mr. Davies does not consider himself a professional shows that he is incompetent to judge the actions of the Union.

JIMMY WILDE WANTS TO VISIT UNITED STATES

New York, Oct. 30.—Charley Harvey, the well-known boxing promoter and manager of Jack Dempsey, has been appointed official matchmaker for New York in the great "week of sport," which incidentally may run many weeks, said yesterday that every effort would be made to bring Jimmy Wilde, the phenomenal English boxer, to this country for a series of bouts. Wilde is not at the front and is not likely to get there by reason of being far under the military weight requirements, and it is felt that a request from the Y. M. C. A. to the British Government would be sufficient to release him from his army duties in London long enough to enable him to participate in the Madison Square Garden carnival.

Local promoters express the opinion that Wilde would draw a bigger gate than Champion Jess Willard. The little Englishman has already shown his willingness to come to New York and give his service to the great cause. There is no doubt that his coming would greatly stimulate interest in the boxing feature of the great drive.

WOULD GIVE NEW LEAGUE HIS HOCKEY FRANCHISE

Montreal, Oct. 29.—"I don't know why they always make me so prominent in this supposed pro-hockey fight," said George Kennedy to-day, "but I will make a statement that may be of some interest to all concerned. If the Quinn-Livingston bunch is so anxious to break into Montreal, I am prepared to lease them my franchise and any players for the coming season, providing the N. H. L. approves of the man who is to run the team, and what is more, I will not charge them over three figures for the whole caboodle. In addition I am convinced that I or they can get ice, for I am sure that Lucien Riopel will be able to fulfill the contract he has made with me to supply me the necessary ice, and I am equally sure that the contract Riopel has with the Jubilee rink will be finally and properly signed and fulfilled."

It is understood that at a recent conference with some of the Jubilee rink directors, Riopel considered that the prospects for an agreement looked much more favorable.

As to the claims from Toronto that the Canadian Association has options on the Jubilee rink, they are worthless.

HORACE GAUL GOES BACK.

RE-ARRANGE SOCCER

WHEN BAN IS LIFTED

Fixture List Will Be Changed When Meetings Are Permitted

The announcement made by Secretary Hill, of the Soccer League, that the schedule would be suspended until the influenza epidemic was over has been confirmed. He states that as soon as it is possible to hold meetings again and the scourge has lifted enough for all the players to be in action once more, a new schedule will be drawn up or the dates changed to meet the conditions.

Mr. Hill has been in communication with the secretary of the Ladysmith Club, which was desirous of a game in Victoria, and the up island men have announced their intention of affiliating with the British Columbia Football Association, and entering into the inter-city games and the McBride Shield competition.

To Play in Seattle.

Permission has been granted to the Fragments from France Football Club to play a New Year's game in Seattle, and the returned men, according to present plans, hope to visit the U. S. city Jan. 4 and 5. The men to play as the "Cruisers" in the league competition are in the city, and the enthusiastic soccer men of that team have expressed considerable disappointment that they are unable to take part in the game at which they are so adept during their stay here.

J. M. ROWLEY.

Although Spanish influenza has interfered with the arrangements for the football week, the plans are all ready to proceed with when an opportunity offers. Mr. Hill will be Chairman of the Committee arranging the week, and J. M. Rowley, the enthusiastic soccer man, acting as secretary of the Fragments, will be in charge.

Rowley has had considerable experience in Eastern soccer and is a former player still keen on the game.

Another transfer has been granted, Kerley dropping out of the Foundation Company selection to play for Yarrows.

Mainland May Resume.

After once calling their games off, the Vancouver players may decide to carry on.

Unless it is found impossible for some of the clubs to field a full complement of players, first division matches in the Vancouver and District League will be resumed on Saturday. Saturday, Jack Spaulding, secretary, after having been knocked out for over a week by Spanish "flu" and he hopes to get into communication with the heads of the clubs early this week and endeavor to get the series under way again.

President James Campbell, president of the Vancouver Junior Alliance, will make another attempt to start this series next Saturday.

PERSISTENT REPORTS CY NOBLE IS KILLED

Despite the fact that Lieut. "Cy" Noble has been declared alive by Senator Miles Plondexter, reports that the Victoria football star was killed in action "over there" continue to arrive.

The following dispatch from Portland makes it appear as though Noble was killed. No official word has been heard concerning the fate of the ex-football star.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 29.—Confirmation of the death of Lieut. Elmer "Cy" Noble, of the 36th Infantry, came here to-day by word received by Rev. John H. Boyd, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, from his son, Lieut. Thomas Henry Boyd, also of the 36th Infantry. Noble was killed instantly by a bursting shell on the Argonne-Meuse front, says the letter. Concussion of the big guns at the same front proved too much for Lieut. Boyd, who spent several days in the hospital after the battle in which young Noble was killed.

JESS NOT RUNNING-UP AGAINST ANY RIVALS

New York, Oct. 30.—Jess Willard will give two boxing exhibitions for the United War Work campaign in Texas, according to a telegram from the champion received here last night by James Coffroth, manager of the boxing committee of the campaign. Willard adds his opponent would be selected by the Texas committee of the United War Work Campaign. Coffroth had hoped to have Willard meet either Jack Dempsey or Fred Fulton here.

"THE COW PUNCHER" IS NOTABLE NOVEL

"The Cow Puncher," a novel from the pen of the well-known Canadian author, Robert L. C. Stead, has recently made its debut among the works of fiction published by the Mussion Book Co., of Toronto.

As its name implies, the story is replete of the wide, open spaces of the West, and throughout the book is imbued with that broad outlook upon life with its steady grasp of the fundamentals which comes to those who have communed with their thoughts in the untrammelled spaces of the world. It is obvious that the author has an intimate knowledge of the foothills of Canada, wherein the action of the story lies, and his descriptions of their varying moods are of a literary plane high above the average "best seller."

The story centres round one David Elden, a cow puncher who, inspired by the love of a girl of higher social status, becomes in turn coal heaver, shipping clerk and newspaper man, and is later carried on the crest of one of those waves of fluctuating prosperity which have touched the West, to the dizzy heights of wealth as a real estate magnate, only to be left by the receding wave a poor and disillusioned man. After many vicissitudes, the cause of love triumphs, but David becomes drawn into the mesh of war, and the final scenes in the book are breathing with the finest type of patriotism. A keen insight of the conflicting strength and weakness which go to make up human nature are revealed by the author in his pen-pictures of the characters which live in his book. David, struggling against the early environment of his home with a dissolute father and succeeding with the aid of a girl; Irene Hardy, who, brought up in cultured surroundings, recognizes the innate gentleman hidden in Dave and remains true to her promise to wait for him; Edith Duncan, who wields an influence for good in the moulding of the hero's character; Mrs. Hardy, hedged in by all the social conventions, and with a virtuous horror of cow punchers; and Conward, the unscrupulous real estate "shark" who is associated with Dave in his quest for wealth—all are types of human beings to be met the wide world over.

The book is unquestionably destined to be a "best seller" and is one of the most virile of the many which have established the author in the front ranks of Canadian novelists.

Build up the Mighty National Force

FOR fifty years the Teuton peoples have been trained, disciplined, whipped, into servile cogs of an implacable military machine, by which is maintained the Prussian doctrine of might, and the Kaiser's autocracy. The Teutons deny themselves, they make sacrifices, because they are trained or forced to do so, but they do it.

The peoples of the Allied nations must make great sacrifices and tremendous efforts in order to defeat the enemies of freedom, but because they are free peoples it is left largely to the individual to say what or how much self-denial each will practice.

So if freedom is to prevail individuals must make voluntary sacrifices which in the aggregate will be greater than the forced sacrifices of the enemies of freedom.

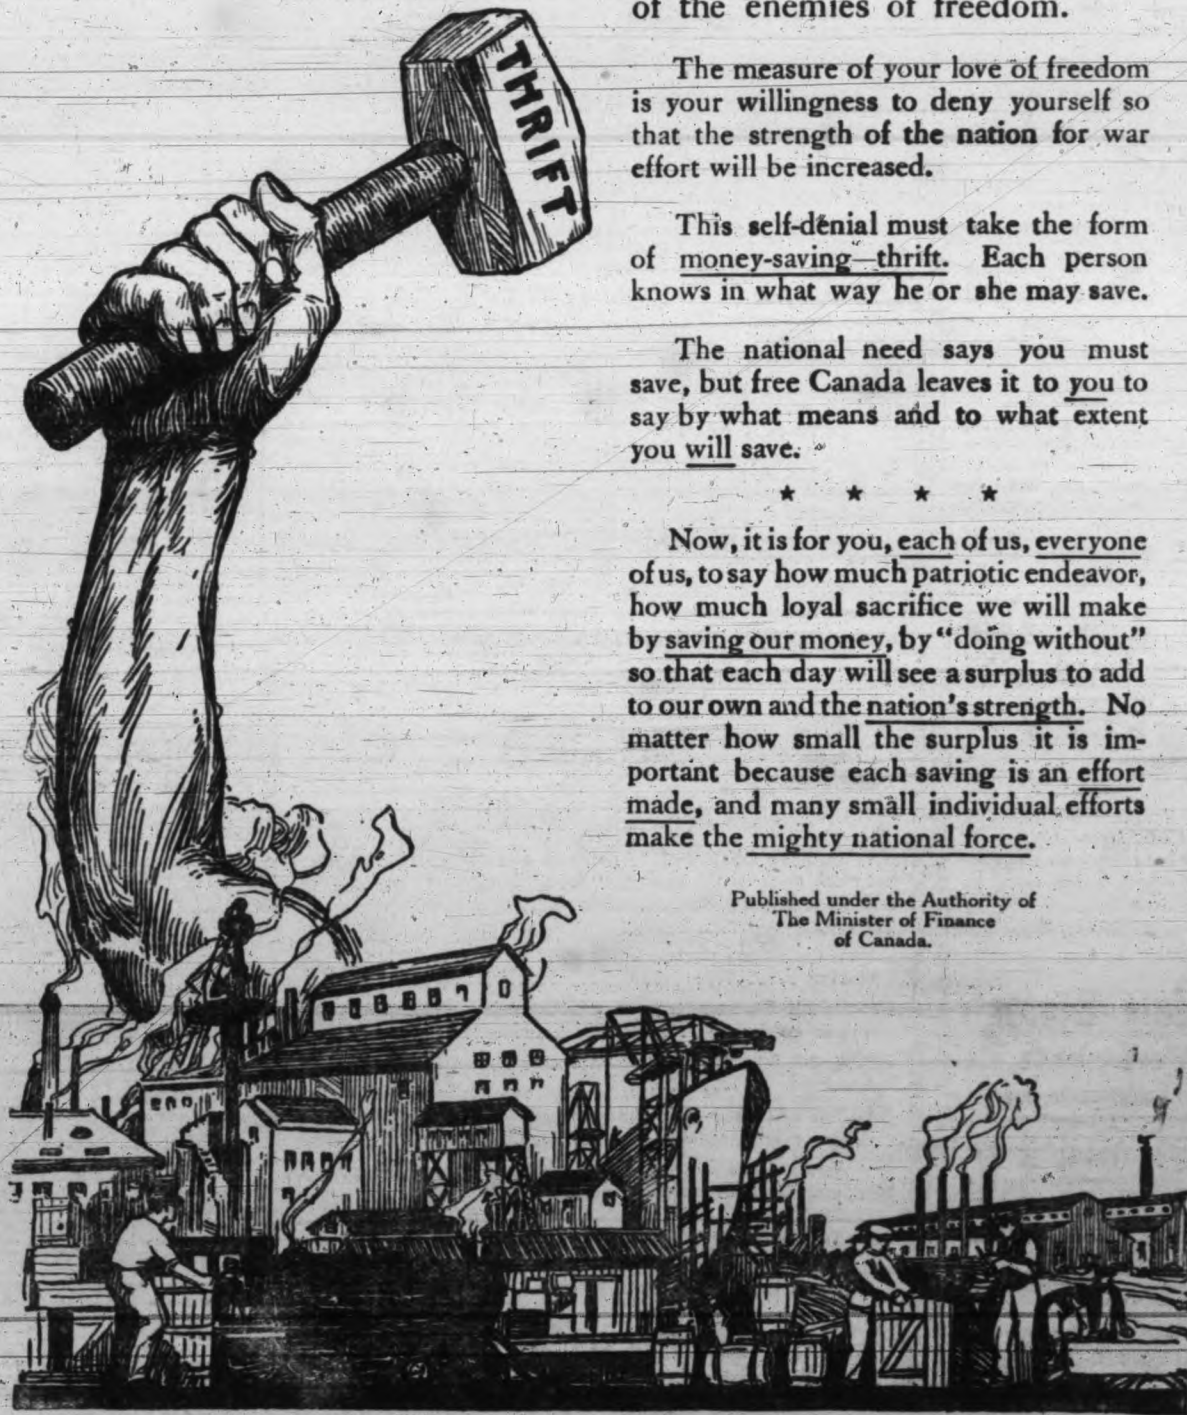

The measure of your love of freedom is your willingness to deny yourself so that the strength of the nation for war effort will be increased.

This self-denial must take the form of money-saving thrift. Each person knows in what way he or she may save.

The national need says you must save, but free Canada leaves it to you to say by what means and to what extent you will save.

Now, it is for you, each of us, everyone of us, to say how much patriotic endeavor, how much loyal sacrifice we will make by saving our money, by "doing without" so that each day will see a surplus to add to our own and the nation's strength. No matter how small the surplus it is important because each saving is an effort made, and many small individual efforts make the mighty national force.

of Canada.

Human Fly Gratifies Great

CONQUERS CORNICES

WITH GREATEST EASE

A hushed crowd, which interrupted the traffic on some of the main streets of the city after noon to-day, watched with bated breath Harry H.
 Gardner, like some clinging insect, scale the Central Building, and on hear after he started from the ground place his cap on the top of the flag staff on the Union Bank Building—adjoining. The "Human Fly" after several daring attempts, found that the tiled surface at the corner of View and Government Streets was so slippery as to make the climb there impossible. He therefore tried every other avenue of ascent, and after an hour managed to reach his perilous objective by dint of uncanny, monkey-like contortions, which threatened every minute to plunge him headlong into the street below.

Start Was Easy.

By the time Joshua Kingham, Victoria Chairman of the Victory Loan Committee, introduced the "Human Fly," who was dressed in white with rubber-soled shoes, a huge crowd suspended the traffic on Government
 Street and packed View Street as well.
 After telling his spectators some of the details of his dangerous business, and that in one place he had sold $2,000 worth of Liberty Bonds following a climb, the "Human Fly" started the ascent from the street.

Grasping every little irregularity in the stone work, he crawled up the side of the Union Bank Building at the

"A police court isn't all grim and sordid," remarked Judge White the other day. "Sometimes something really funny happens. Not so very long ago a chauffeur was brought in after having run down a man."

"Didn't you know that if you struck this pedestrian he would be seriously injured?" I asked.
"Yes, sir," replied the chauffeur. "Then why didn't you signal your car and miss him?"
"He was signalling himself, and outstepped me. Your Honor," was the answer. —Los Angeles Times.

ARE LISTING CLAIMS AGAINST GERMANY

British Authorities Keeping Record of Submarine and Other Cases

London, Oct. 30.—(Reuters.)—In the House of Commons Alfred Bryce, a Nationalist, asked whether steps would be taken to secure compensation for the dependents of all the victims of the Teutonic submarine warfare, and also if the Government proposed to demand from the German Government the names of the commander and the crew of the submarine responsible for the murder of 600 passengers of the Leinster, and further if the Government would see that these Germans were brought to trial.

Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law replied that as regarded the first part of the question, he had nothing to add to previous answers. A register was being kept of all claims in respect of losses due to enemy action.

Surplus Supplies.

Sir Henry Havelock-Allen asked if steps had been taken to establish an authority for the disposal of surplus Government stores after the war, thereby preventing overlapping and wastage caused by various Government departments each disposing of its own surplus stores.

Mr. Bonar Law replied that steps had been taken in this direction by a committee of the Cabinet which was considering the precise character of the authorities and steps were to be taken immediately.

AUSTRALIAN LOAN.

SHIP PLANS EXTEND TO THE END OF 1919

U. S. Shipping Board Will Make Plans Later for Construction in 1920

Washington, Oct. 30.—Contracts for the construction of a number of troopships at a cost of $6,000,000 by the Bethlehem Union Shipyard at Alameda, Cal., have been cancelled by the United States Shipping Board.

Shipping Board officials let it be known to-day that the action was taken three weeks ago. It is said that the board was unable to turn out the additional ships designed particularly to bring troops home from Europe after the war unnecessary because plans have been perfected for converting large steel freighters into transports.

The board also desires to have its present programme completed at the end of 1919 and the yards at Alameda would not be able to turn out the transports within that time.

It was stated to-day that the board is making no contracts at this time that can not be completed by the end of 1919. This, however, does not mean the ending of ship construction then, for contracts will be awarded during 1919 for construction to run through 1920, such future contracts to be based on the estimated need of cargo carriers of all descriptions after the war.

TEMPORARY FIVE-CENT STREET RAILWAY FARE ALLOWED IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—The Winnipeg Electric Railway Company will be permitted by the city temporarily to charge a flat five-cent fare, except for children's and workmen's tickets, which will be sold at the rate of eight for twenty-five cents and six for twenty-five cents respectively.

An exhaustive investigation of the company's business is to be made by the Public Utilities Commissioner to establish if the increased rates are to be permanent.

The city's strike will avert the threatened action of motormen and conductors set for Friday.

BRITISH CABINET TO REPRESENT BRITAIN IN PEACE DISCUSSION

London, Oct. 30.—Sir Richard Cooper asked in the House of Commons if the Prime Minister intended to take steps to secure that the peace agreement shall in general principles accord with the wishes of the majority of the members of the House of Commons.

Mr. Bonar Law replied that the Government must be the interpreter of the views of the House and the nation.

Sir Richard asked if in this matter the country would be committed to a secret peace agreement.

Mr. Bonar Law said: "I do not quite know what the honorable member means. I do not suppose he suggests that the peace terms should be put up to the country as a referendum, and I know of no other way in which the country could be represented except by the Government."

MANY NEW CASES OF INFLUENZA IN WINNIPEG DISTRICT

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—There are many new cases of Spanish influenza in Winnipeg and district to-day. One hundred and sixty new cases had been reported up to noon at the City Health Office, which was receiving reports of new cases every few minutes at that time. Twelve deaths from pulmonary disease were reported during the morning.

NO CLUB SANDWICHES.

New York, Oct. 29.—Club sandwiches containing chicken and bacon, or any dishes combining more than one kind of meat, must disappear from hotel menus, according to an interpretation to-day by the federal Food Board of the twelve regulation governing public eating houses recently announced by the hotel division of the Food Administration. The established combinations of ham and eggs or bacon and eggs, however, are not to be disturbed.

CZECH GROUP EXERCISING FUNCTIONS OF GOVERNMENT THROUGHOUT BOHEMIA NOW

Copenhagen, Oct. 30.—The Czech National Committee took over the functions of the local Government in Prague, the Bohemian capital, on Monday, marking the final step in its successful revolution there, according to a telegram from Berlin to The National Tidende.

The Austrian Imperial symbols were removed from various buildings and the Imperial proclamations torn down. The city officials have taken an oath of fidelity to the Czech state.

During Monday night the general commanding the Prague garrison and his staff placed the entire armed forces in the city at the disposal of the Czech National Committee.

WITH MORE THAN 20,000 PRISONERS ALLIES IN ITALIAN THEATRE CONTINUE DEFEATING ENEMY

Austrian line east of the Piave River. Val Dobbiogio was captured yesterday. Conegliano was occupied and along a line stretching south to the Treviso-Oderzo railway, the Allied troops are moving steadily ahead. Prisoners numbering over 20,000 have been taken during the fighting.

Resistance Weakens. Reports from the Piave front seem to indicate that after the first rush of the Allied forces the Austrian resistance weakened greatly, and there are indications that along the centre of the line the enemy's defence has been crushed. The sweep of the Allied forces eastward appears to have gained momentum during the past day, and it seems probable that the next few days may see the whole Austrian army retreating toward the Tagliamento.

Not only are the Austrian lines yielding on the Piave front, but farther north and west Allied troops are reported to be advancing. The capture of Conegliano, the key of the Austrian position, is considered a fatal blow to the enemy's plan to hold north of the line where the Allied wedge has been driven deep into the Austrian line.

Will Develop.

Italian Headquarters on the Piave. Oct. 29.—Via London, Oct. 29.—(Associated Press.)—The Austrian forces are retreating under ever-increasing pressure, and it is felt that the peace agreement will be reached over-whelmingly as soon as the entire Allied force can enter the action.

With three successive days of fair weather, an extremely heavy rain, with supplies, has crossed the mountains over the Piave. It is expected the Austrian munitions supply will give out. There are indications that the enemy's heavy artillery is being withdrawn in an effort to save the big guns.

The American Red Cross is preparing to assist the Italian population in towns evacuated by the Austrians. The majority of these people are old men and women and children.

The latest reports show the Austrians retreating steadily to save themselves in the Piave district, where 150 guns and a thousand additional prisoners were captured to-day. Monte Grappa has been attacked violently by the enemy, however, but the action resulted in his repulse.

Rome, Oct. 30.—The following official report was issued here last night: "The enemy, attacked frontally by the 8th and 12th Armies and threatened on his flank by the Tenth Army, has been forced to abandon the heights on the left bank of the Piave and, hard pressed by our troops, is retreating."

"Several more villages have been liberated. Closely following the enemy, who blew up the bridges across the Montebello, we have entered Conegliano."

NEW YORK STRIKE.

New York, Oct. 30.—The general strike committee of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, of which membership 15,000 workers on boys' clothing went on strike here Monday morning, announced that settlements providing for the union demands of a forty-four-hour week and a twenty per cent. increase in wages had been effected with the employers of about 1,000 strikers.

Four hundred workers on children's clothing ordered by the Red Cross for homeless children in France, Belgium and Italy, had returned to work to-day at the direction of Harry Cohen, manager of the joint board of the children's clothing trades, in spite of the fact that factories holding contracts for this clothing have not accepted the union's demands.

EFFORTS OF TURKEY TO OBTAIN PEACE

Amsterdam, Oct. 30.—The Constantinian newspaper Idkna on Sunday printed a statement from a "competent source" that the Turkish Government had commenced official peace negotiations with the Entente, adding that delegates already had left the Turkish capital in other quarters in Constantinople, however, it is declared the negotiations are unofficial.

SCANDINAVIA IS NOT OPEN TO REFUGEES

Sweden and Norway Unable to Meet Needs of Fleeing Russians

Stockholm, Oct. 30.—The overflow into Scandinavia of Russian refugees who sought an asylum in Finland has created such a problem that Dr. Heller, the Swedish Foreign Minister, has taken up the question with direct information for the Swedish Government has refused to receive a new invasion of the Russians.

Thousands of victims of the Bolshevik regime have fled into Finland and have compelled the Finnish population to divide with them the already meagre supplies of food. The food situation has become so serious in Finland, it is reported, as to endanger the public health.

Some time ago the Finnish Government asked Norway and Sweden to give shelter to some of the Russians. Although food is scarce in Scandinavia, a large number of Russians were permitted to come into Sweden and Norway, but recently the Governments of these countries were compelled to inform Finland that they could no longer permit the unlucky Russians to enter.

The housing problem in Sweden and Norway also is very bad, even if the food difficulties could be overcome by means of increased importations from the Allied countries.

UKRAINIANS WILL TRY TO OCCUPY AND HOLD DISTRICT OF CHOLM

Paris, Oct. 30.—Gen. Skoropadski, the Ukrainian Hetman, according to a Zurich dispatch to The Journal des Debats, has sent three Ukrainian divisions to the Polish frontier with the object of occupying the districts of Cholm and Podlachia, which were given to the Ukraine by the prejudice of Poland by the Great-Litovsk treaty. The Ukrainians intend to move into Poland whenever the German and Austrian troops withdraw.

The German authorities in the Ukraine, it is added, support General Skoropadski. Numerous German soldiers have joined the Ukrainian divisions sent to the Polish frontier.

LANDSLIDE IN NEW YORK STOCKS

Reduction in Extra Dividend on U. S. Steel Common Unsettled the List

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)

New York, Oct. 30.—The overnight knowledge that the extra dividend on United States Steel common had been reduced brought a flood of selling orders on all steel stocks at the opening. The market was mercilessly pounded all day by the bear element and one stock after another gave way under the onslaught.

The whole list was affected. U. S. Steel lost six points. Losses of from three to six points were common in steel issues. Shipping shares were sharply lower. Copper was weak throughout. The rails were last to slide, but even in this group where the buying has been of the holders were inclined to let go. It was freely said that the break had to come as the market was picking up a speculative following who would not listen to the warning of the money committee that stocks must be well protected.

STORAGE OF POTATOES

Warning is issued to Save Production of 1918 Season.

The Commission of Conservation has issued for the benefit of vacant lot cultivators the following notice:

"Many have grown potatoes this year who never did so before, and consequently will be unfamiliar with the best methods of protecting the crop."

"Owing to the excessive rains this autumn, potatoes in some districts have become infected with rot, and many have been harvested under unfavorable conditions. In many instances they have been stored in cellars before being properly dried. Potatoes showing any indication of rot should not be stored with sound ones. This is especially true if there are abnormal conditions of moisture, as such conditions will cause a greater activity of the fungus and, consequently, quicker rotting of the potatoes."

"Potatoes should be stored in as dry and cool a place as possible without freezing. The drier they can be kept the less rot will develop.
"This year, especially, potatoes should be carefully sorted within from three to four weeks after storing in this cellar, those showing any signs of developing rot being discarded.
This will protect the remainder of the crop."

EXECUTIVE FAILS TO TAKE DEFINITE ACTION AT MEETING

Victoria & Island Development Association Delays Appointment of Secretary

SMALL BONUS GIVEN TEMPORARY OFFICIAL

The Executive of the Victoria and Island Development Association at its meeting yesterday afternoon decided to take no definite steps in connection with the appointment of a new publicity commissioner to take the position vacated by Charles L. Armstrong. The matter was stood over for an indefinite period, and another meeting will be called by the President, especially for the purpose of dealing with the matter.

It is not likely that this meeting will be called until after the Victory Loan campaign is concluded, and the Spanish influenza epidemic has been stamped out. In fact, one speaker intimated that if a commissioner were appointed it would not be until January next in any event.

Alderman Andros, the President, read a letter from the Finance Committee recommending that Miss Elizabeth Taylor's salary be increased to $150 per month, to the retroactive from September 1. Miss Taylor has been with the Association for over four years, and has been in charge of the office since Mr. Armstrong resigned.

J. A. Howard Chapman said he thought the Finance Committee had no authority to take such a step. President Andros remarked that the matter might have been dealt with by the Committee in a more diplomatic manner.

Wm. Agnew wanted to know why the salary should be doubled.

W. H. P. Sweeney desired to know who constituted the Finance Committee, when the recommendation was made.

It was informed that Joshua Kingham, J. D. O'Connell, and Alderman Harvey were the members of the committee.

Is Doing Good Work.

J. O. O'Connell pointed out that the Finance Committee had expected President Andros to attend the meeting, but he had not done so. In view of the fact that Miss Taylor was doing the whole work of the Association it was felt advisable to recommend the increase, and he therefore moved that the Executive adopt the suggestion. S. V. Howers seconded. Mr. Chapman raised strong and repeated objection to the proceedings, and wanted to know why instructions given at a certain meeting held early in the year, the date of which he could not remember, had not been carried out whereby Miss Taylor was promised a bonus of $50 per annum. This was done, Mr. Chapman said, at the time Mr. Armstrong's salary had been increased. Miss Taylor had never been paid the bonus.

C. H. French then moved an amendment that Miss Taylor's salary should be made $100 a month, which was seconded by Alderman Sangster. Later Mr. French, with the consent of his second, corrected his amendment to read that the $100 should be paid from September 1, and until such time as another Commissioner is appointed.

The Explanation.

Mr. Chapman again interrupted with a demand to know why the $50 bonus had not been paid, and President Andros then recalled that when Mr. Armstrong's salary was raised it was found impossible to increase Miss Taylor's. The former was paid $175 per month, and the latter $75.

Alderman Porter claimed that the work was pretty well cleaned up when Mr. Armstrong left and there was not much to do. President Andros stated that if Mr. Armstrong's services were required, the services of a successor were required. He paid an exceedingly high tribute to Miss Taylor, but he did not think she was capable of holding the position of Publicity Commissioner.

Alderman Porter—"If she has been doing the Commissioner's duties I think she should be paid."

Qualifies Increase.

Mayor Todd suggested that whatever additional amount be paid Miss Taylor it should be put in the form of a $25 bonus. He stated that many girls employed at the City Hall were exceedingly competent, and the highest-paid girl was getting $90 per month. As the Association was practically a city institution the Mayor thought it would cause a great deal of dissatisfaction if Miss Taylor were paid so much more than city stenographers were getting.

The amendment was then passed that Miss Taylor should be paid a bonus of $25 per month from September 1, and until such time as a new publicity Commissioner is appointed. There are some half dozen applications on the Association's files for the position of Publicity Commissioner, but they were not read at the meeting owing to the decision to stand the matter over until a later date. Mr. Agnew suggested that to save time, in the meantime a committee might be busy investigating the credentials of the applicants for the Secretary's position.

Alderman Porter reminded the meeting that it had not yet been decided what the committee was going to do about it.

Donations Received.
President Andros called attention to the fact that the Hudson's Bay Company and the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company had each contributed the sum of $200 towards the funds of the Association, and a vote of appreciation was extended the donors for their welcome contributions.

Printing Criticized.

There was a good deal of heated discussion over the manner of letting the printing contracts for pamphlets used in the advertising campaign of the Association, the argument being precipitated in by Mr. Chapman. The latter contended that in all fairness the tenders should be open to the whole of Canada.

Mr. Sweeney said he was prepared to stake his reputation on the assertion that nowhere in Canada could the Industrial Bureau.

W. A. Jamieson, of the Industrial Bureau, reported that some seventy questionnaires had been sent out aiming at securing a consensus of opinion as to what was most essential for the industrial welfare and development of Victoria. Some thirty answers had been received, the majority of which pointed to the necessity of completing transportation connections, especially between the railways and the outer docks.

Local co-operation was another point emphasized as extremely necessary to the propagation of the Victoria
Go-Ahead spirit, and other correspondents suggested better means for keeping local money at home.

Mr. Jamieson reported that recommendations in connection with bettering Victoria's transportation facilities had been made to the Cabinet Ministers during their recent visit to the city, and he was hopeful of more satisfactory results being attained in the near future.
